SERVICE & INVESTMENT GUIDE

WELCOME

Your image should do more than show what you look like. It should help people remember you.

Megan,

Thank you again for the opportunity to connect.

Based on what you shared, I put this guide together with one goal in mind: creating imagery that feels true to you while helping you leave a stronger and more memorable impression in the spaces where your presence matters most.

What stood out to me is that you are not looking for a standard professional portrait. You are looking for imagery with warmth, distinction, and personality. Something more refined. More natural. More aligned with the level of experience you offer.

That is the kind of work I love most.

The session options below are designed to give you different levels of support depending on how much depth, variety, and long-term brand value you would like to create. Each one is built around the same intention: to help you be seen in a way that feels elevated, authentic, and difficult to forget.

I am excited about what we can create together.

Warmly,

Erik Esparza
